

The E.W. “Jack” Jackson Endowed Scholarship

Among the first great two-sport athletes at Wayland was E.W. “Jack” Jackson. Jackson, a native of Spade, came to Wayland in September, 1928, and immediately impacted the Jackrabbit programs as a varsity athlete in football in 1928, 1929, and 1930, and in basketball in 1928. Jackson never missed a game during his Wayland career, averaging five yards per carry from the fullback position. During the 1928-1929 season, Jackson helped the Jackrabbits to their best record at that time, 7-1-1. He was also a starting guard on the basketball team, which held practices in the basement of GTP all ta3(al)6(lea)-(e)-2(ng)17(17(i)2(n)1)JTJ Tr09 Tw -9(t)2()-17(h)21(e)-17
